FEED. W. HUTCHISON, Minister of Interior.

Home Office, July 19, 1868. Tux great convenience of inter-island steam is denied by none, and its necessity is felt by all those living on the other Islands, distant from Honolulu, and those whose business makes it necessary for them to cross our channels. Some time since, the steamer Kilimen was purchased with the home that those interested... that is, our merchants and capitalists-might be induced to form a company, to put her in make the following appointments:

Those who could have made the trial, did not seem to think so, and in consequence the Kilimen remains moored in our harbor with little hope of ever again being put into the coasting en set apart as a Pound, from this date. trade. There is now, as we understand, a prospect of obtaining a steam coaster for the windward route, which is fully as well (if not better.) adapted for the trade, as An enclosure, belonging to James Todd, on the Kilcuest. The owners of the steam propeller George S. Wright, through a business firm of this city, have made a proposition to run that vessel for one year, provided they receive a subsidy of $1,000 per month, and are permitted to Luther Severance, Esq., has this day been retain the nationality of the vessel until it appeinted Commissioner of Private Ways and Water Rights, for the district of Koolanka.

THE figures of the Advertiser on the copper tenders, are very instructive; they prove that the author of the article is a finished mathematician, as far at least, as multiplication goes. We should not wonder at all, if he was the man who invented that wonderful problem which has puzzled so many and been solved by so few, viz: "If an apple and a half cost a cent and a half, how much will three apples cost?" Light can be seen at a distance of ten miles out to sea. With this light bearing E. N. Supreme Court-July Term,

The King es. Kaona. The opinion of the Court was delivered

Bill of exceptions to judgment of Circuit Court of the Third Judicial Circuit, lenying a motion in arrest of judgment. The question was raised in the argument of this case, upon the jurisdiction of the circuit courts to grant a new trial in criminal cases, and upon the form in which exceptions should be brought here from the rulings of the circuit court declining to entertain, or denying motions for new trial, or in arrest of judgment.

In this case, the bill avers that the motion overruled was in arrest of judgment, whereas the pleadings, which are referred to and made part of the bill, show that the motion was for a new trial. We do not think that objection can properly be made for the first time in the argument, to the Court having entertained jurisdiction of this motion. Each side submitted to the pro forma raing thereon, and can- to allow or refuse Bills of Exceptions to then, or presented by the exceptions. In this case the Court is asked to set aside the verdict on the ground of insufficiency of evidence. The principles are clearly defined and well established, on which our decision must be grounded. The Court will not set aside a verdict beamount of money paid to them for the cause we should have drawn a different conclusion from that drawn by the jury. Where, in criminal cases particularly, there was legal evidence directly tending to support the verdict, or where there was conflicting evidence, there is no legal authority for granting a new trial for want of advantage in accepting his tender, than evidence. (Hilliard's New Trials, p. 340, and [Shaw, C. J.] Whiten vs. Old Colony,

The bill presents evidence pointing strongly to the conclusion that the defendant was once insane, and from which the jury might, perhaps, have inferred that he was not legally responsible, as a free honesty, although it was not the most moral agent, for the offence charged. The King es. Sylvester Cullen. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Hartwell, J.

This case was brought on appeal before Judge Kamakuu, Circuit Judge of Oahu, in Chambers, who dismissed the appeal on the ground that a bond to the Marshal was not given, as prescribed in Sec. 1009, Civil Black Silk Umbrellas, Code, whereupon a Bill of Exceptions to this ruling was brought here, the defend-ant's counsel claiming that this is the proper mode of bringing up the question of law thus raised.

It may be a convenience to this Court. in many cases, to have everything before them in a Bill of Exceptions, but it is not made a part of the duty of Circuit Judges their rulings in Chambers. It was argued that the appeal allowed by the Statutes

TYPHOID FEVER.

This disease is not only cured by Dr. Radway's Relief and Pills, but prevented. If exposed to it, put one tea-spoonful of Relief in a tumbler of ter. Drink this before going out in the morning, and several times during the day. Take one of Radway's Pills one hour before dinner, and one on going to bed.

If seized with Fever, take 4 to 6 of the Pills every six hours, until copious discharges from the bowels take p also drink the Relief diluted with water, and bathe the entire surface of the body with Relief. Soon a powerful perspiration will take place, and you will feel a pleasant heat through-out the system. Keep on taking Relief repeatedly, every four hours, also the Pills. A cure will be sure to follow. The relief is strongthening, stimulating, soothing, and quieting; it is sure to break up the Fever and to neutralize the poison. Let this treatment be fol-lowed, and thousands will be saved. The same treatment in Fever and Ague, Fever, will effect a cure in 24 hours. When the patient feels the Relief irritating or heating the skin, a cure is po tive. In all cases where pain is felt the Relief should be used.

Relief 50 cts.; Pills 25 cts. Sold by all Druggists.
